| Description                     | We design knitting patterns and kits for the retail knitting industry. I design all of the knitted items and my partner, Kelly, and I design the packaging. We sell our knitting patterns and kits into retail stores throughout the United States and Canada. We manufacture and ship the kits from our warehouse in San Lorenzo, CA, and we also do lots of packing and shipping from our studio in the Montclair district of the Oakland Hills. |
| Intern responsibilities         | Assist in day to day operations, including getting promotional packages to clients, picking up materials and making bank and post office deliveries; Assist in photo shoots and file transfers with graphic designer; Coordinate packing and shipping of internet orders; Invoice orders; Promotional mailings/email alerts; If intern knits, we will definitely use her and per her extra to work up patterns.                                    |

|  | allowed to use owner's car for business purposes.   |
| Intern Requirements             | We are keen on finding an intern who is able to wear many hats and who will be devoted to and excited about learning every aspect of a design firm/wholesale manufacturer. Because we are so small, this is a tremendous 'hands on' opportunity for the correct candidate. On a given day, we can be doing anything from designing a new product line, editing patterns for our latest book, negotiating with our yarn vendor in Peru, doing a photo shoot, packing orders, dealing with our warehouse, etc. That said, we need someone who is agile and entrepreneurial, who can be given a task and complete it quickly with precision, and who has common sense and is a problem solver. We also would prefer the intern have some computer experience, driver's license, interest in the needle arts, positive, friendly attitude. |
| Special Attractions in the area | We are a 15 minute BART or car ride to downtown San Francisco. Our Oakland Studio is located in a wonderful neighborhood in the Oakland hills. We walk to everything (my house &amp; office are one block from each other) and public transportation abounds. There are apartments available in town, which features coffee shops, clothing stores, restaurants and 1 sports bar, Crogans. It's a fun location; with an active 'coffee culture' -- lots of people drive here to 'hang out' and have their lattes.  |
